The New 2008 Annual Bunnykins

The new 2008 annual Bunnykins reflect the nostalgia of story time. For original Bunnykins designer Barbara Vernon, stories were an essential part of her life. It was the nightly tales told to her by her father, Cuthbert Bailey, manager of Royal Doulton's Burslem factory, that gave her artistic inspiration.

The original Storytime seriesware pattern was the inspiration for Royal Doulton designer Caroline Dadd, who created three dimensional characters for this year's annual Bunnykins – each is enjoying the story being told.

Royal Albert: A Century of Style

In celebration of Royal Albert's 100th anniversary, a collection of petite figures, plates, cups and saucers has been created to commemorate the company's longevity and commitment to excellence. Each figure has been decorated using a pattern and design chosen to represent the colors of each decade.

A special backstamp has been created for each of these anniversary figures. The plate, cup and saucer are sold as a set and come beautifully packaged in a round anniversary gift box.

Introducing the First Royal Albert Figure of the Year

The first Royal Albert Figure of the Year, Old Country Rose, is a beautiful study by Pauline Parsons. Pauline's design captures the essence of femininity. The entire ensemble expresses the exuberance of the Old Country Roses pattern and is decorated with gold accents.

Rose RA22
Royal Albert Petite Figure
6.75"H $80

Rose is a petite figure based on Royal Doulton's most popular figural shape, Autumn Breezes. Rose is sheer perfection, dressed in a skirt trimmed with the Old Country Roses pattern.
